CODY AREA BROKER

Ted Harvey

Ted Harvey grew up camping, hiking, rock climbing, rafting and kayaking in the mountains of North Carolina. His love of ranching and the West began during a family trip to a dude ranch on the South Fork of the Shoshone River outside of Cody, Wyoming, in the early 1980s. The trip sparked a 25-year adventure working on dude and cattle operations in New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. Majoring in Horsemanship at Central Wyoming College in Riverton, Wyoming, Ted developed a successful career working in all aspects of the guest ranch industry from head wrangler to general manager. Over the years Ted has been an active member of the National Dude Rancher’s Association and has worked extensively on wrangler safety and risk management.

Many years in the guest ranch industry, Ted learned that attention to detail and excellent customer service principles make the difference between a good vacation and the experience of a lifetime. Moving back to Cody in 2010, Ted started his own Dude Ranch Consulting Business and has applied these principles to guiding ranch owners and individuals who are embarking in the industry. Ted’s business model focuses on development of business plans, financial projections and helping people find the ideal ranch to suit individual needs.

Recently, Ted has joined the Live Water Properties’ Team to promote the preservation of ranch lands while selling exceptional ranch properties in the Big Horn Basin and northwest Wyoming.

Monster Lake Ranch - Cody, Wyoming

Comprised of 3,248.4 acres as part of the ranch headquarters in Park County, and 640 acres of rangeland located on Fifteen Mile Creek in Big Horn County, Monster Lake Ranch controls 3,888.4 total acres. The ranch is appropriately named after Monster Lake, a 180-acre lake

Both of these lakes have an abundance of aquatic food sources allowing the trout to truly become “monsters”. Wildlife is plentiful with Pronghorn antelope, Mule and Whitetail deer, Chukar partridge, Hungarian partridge and waterfowl frequently seen on the ranch as well as the adjacent BLM and state land. Monster Lake Ranch has approximately 550 acres available for irrigation and has a system of concrete ditches and gated pipe.
