Why Not Ranch - Jackson, Wyoming

The Why Not Ranch is a one-of-a-kind 44-acre horse property in Teton County, Wyoming, 20 minutes from the gateway resort community of Jackson Hole. Jackson Hole Mountain Resort is a 35-minute drive from the ranch and features 2,560 acres of in-bound skiable terrain and the greatest continuous rise of any ski resort in the United States. The Why Not boasts nearly ¾ mile of frontage on the Hoback River and is perfectly situated to take advantage of the natural beauty of surrounding public lands. The Bridger-Teton National Forest virtually envelops the ranch with countless miles of trails to explore in addition to hunting opportunities for Mule deer, elk, moose and black bear. Improvements on the Why Not Ranch include a 4,600 sqft, 5 BR, 4 BA riverfront residence with exceptional views and a four-stall barn and heated shop. One of the most unique features of the Why Not Ranch is that it qualifies for an additional 10,000 sqft indoor riding arena, setting it apart from other properties in the valley. The ranch offers unlimited recreational opportunities on the Hoback River; within an hour-drive are some of the highest rated rivers in the country including the Snake, Green, New Fork, Gros Ventre, Buffalo and smaller streams and tributaries too numerous to count. With unparalleled equestrian opportunities, private fishing and access to public lands, an incoming owner will welcome the authentic Western living while enjoying the comforts of Jackson Hole.

Upper 84 Ranch - Brady, Nebraska

Former Dallas Cowboys Pro Bowl tight end and owner Jay Novacek refers to the Upper 84 Ranch as a little slice of heaven in Nebraska. Consisting of 3,268 deeded acres, this property looks like it could be in Colorado. This beautiful, but rugged, cedar-covered hill country is located 30 minutes from North Platte Regional Airport. This is a tremendous hunting property with abundant Mule and Whitetail deer, turkey, elk, geese, ducks, grouse and quail. The east side of the property borders a lease on Jeffrey Reservoir with Central Nebraska Public Power Company and includes exclusive use of 3 miles of lake shore. The reservoir is known for good walleye, crappie and bass fishing as well as other water sports. With approximately 1,200 acres in high fence, part of the ranch was formerly operated as a hunting preserve, which could be continued. The 7,875 sqft luxury custom home with high-end finishes could be utilized as the personal residence or converted to a high-end lodge. The property is also equipped to be a working cattle and/or horse ranch with corrals, a 20,000 sqft "barn" with heated stalls, an indoor riding arena and guest rooms upstairs for additional hunter lodging. Upscale improvements with turnkey hunting and ranching amenities make this ranch ideal for an individual, group or corporate retreat. Previously listed with another firm at $6,000,000, Live
Water Properties has it priced to sell now.

Wind River Ranch - Crowheart, Wyoming

Comprised of 564 acres, the Wind River Ranch boasts 2 ½ miles of private trophy trout fishing on the Wind River. Located just inside the Wind River Indian Reservation, the ranch sits 8 miles from the community of Crowheart, Wyoming, and 26 miles from the town of Dubois. The lush riparian ground along the river provides an excellent habitat for both Mule and Whitetail deer along with other wildlife in this diverse ecosystem. With water rights for 380+ acres of the Wind River, the property has plenty of water for agricultural purposes. Historically the Wind River Ranch has farmed more than 235 acres and new electric motors and pumps plus wheel lines and piping are included in the sale. The riverfront 7,400 sqft lodge is completely furnished; it includes five bedroom and bath combination suites. The game room, home theater and open floor plan are great additions, making the Wind River Ranch a special retreat for entertaining guests after a day of fishing. Added improvements include a recently constructed riverfront guest cabin, a 3,500 sqft climate-controlled pool house, and 800 sqft pool, sauna, hot tub, bar/lounge area and tennis court. The 2,700 sqft 10-stall, Kirby steel horse barn includes a concrete alley and a small apartment used for employees. The nearby shop has an indoor riding arena and working area. With exceptional fly fishing, abundant wildlife and countless recreational amenities in proximity to the resort community of Jackson Hole, the Wind River Ranch offers the “true ranch” feel.

Darlington Spring Creek Ranch - Three Forks, Montana

Darlington Spring Creek Ranch is an exceptional recreational ranch situated in the lower Madison Valley outside of Three Forks, Montana. A short 30-minute drive west of Bozeman, the property offers the rare opportunity of a peaceful lifestyle and abundant fishing with “small town” charm yet “big city” amenities. Consisting of 108 acres, the property boasts ¾ of mile of Darlington Spring Creek, a fishery known to hold gigantic trout. This classic spring creek contains the water quality and wildlife habitat anglers dream about. Improvements include a well-built 4,060 sqft farm-style home built in 2004 with 4 BR, 3 BA and 3-car garage. The property is bordered on the west by over 800 acres of state land that provides direct access to the Madison River and Darlington Ditch. This section of the Madison River is famous for its braids, channels and low angling pressure. The Darlington Ditch runs along the western boundary of the property and has undergone habitat restoration projects sponsored by Trout Unlimited. The results are a superb technical fishery holding exceptionally large trout. The area is well known as a major waterfowl flyway with rich river bottom. Wildlife includes pheasant, Hungarian partridge, geese, ducks and Whitetail deer. Location, recreation, outstanding fishing and the spring creek habitat makes Darlington Spring Creek Ranch a phenomenal rarity in all of Gallatin County.

Birch Spring Ranch - Yampa, Colorado

Birch Spring Ranch is an inholding in BLM land that is comprised of 320 acres. The ranch lies at the base of Skull Creek Basin and is near the towns of Massadona and Dinosaur, Colorado. The property is close to The Dinosaur National Monument and the Douglas Mountains. Moffat
County is known for breathtaking views at Dinosaur National Monument and World Class Elk Hunting. This property provides big canyons, deep draws and cover necessary to support trophy elk, Mule deer, antelope and Mountain lion. The property is a quality combination of open meadows, as well as pinyon and juniper trees. In addition to the big game, Sandhill cranes, eagles, wild horses and other species of wildlife may be spotted from state and county roads that wander through scenic back country of Moffat County. Summer recreation opportunities include hiking, biking, horseback riding, rafting, kayaking, tubing, motocross and more. Moffat County is a paradise for outdoor enthusiasts. Two-thirds of the scenic Dinosaur National Monument is in Moffat County, with its scenic vistas that some call "the little Grand Canyon." It's a beautiful place to hike, camp, horseback ride or catch some intense rapids on the Green or Yampa River. In the winter, residents and visitors enjoy a variety of snow sports such as cross-country and downhill skiing, snowmobiling, snowshoeing, playing hockey and ice fishing. There are many areas nearby that provide excellent fishing opportunities. The Yampa, White and Green Rivers, Elkhead Reservoir and secluded mountain lakes and streams are a short drive from the property.

2011 Summer Outlook for Rocky Mountain Snowpack

By: Carlos Ordonez

Right now, many of us who live in these wonderful Rocky Mountain towns are asking ourselves, “Will spring actually come this year... will the wet, cold conditions ever end?!” Additionally and more significantly, are those whose professions are affected: farmers, ranchers and fishing outfitters. We are all grateful for this moisture from Mother Nature. Although there are variances, the general theme for 2011 snowpack is above-average in most areas. This holds true for ranges of the Southern Rockies all the way to the Northern Rockies in Canada. Specific areas are reporting record-setting conditions in parts of ID, WY, MT and CO.

For farmers and ranchers, this abundance of water means peace of mind and relief from the ever-present danger of drought. In 2011 streams and rivers should provide healthy flows for canals and irrigation districts, ensuring adequate storage in the reservoirs. However, as with many things in life, it is possible to see too much of a good thing. The abundant snowpack levels will eventually turn into yearly thaws and high-water runoff conditions in our area rivers and streams. Depending on geographic location, too much too fast can be potentially dangerous in lower-lying areas. In a perfect world, this spring season across the Rockies will show a gradual rise in temperature, not too quick nor too slow. This will ensure adequate and safe water delivery and storage for our local farmers and ranchers. Not to mention, providing for longer, green and lush conditions across our Rocky Mountain farm and ranch landscapes.

From a fisheries’ standpoint, abundant water is generally beneficial to the aquatic life of our watersheds. An increase in water translates into more consistent temperatures, higher oxygen content and better food sources for trout. Increased water also provides more space for cover, which ultimately should enhance survival rates throughout the fall and into the winter. All these factors lead to higher numbers of more healthy trout, which brings smiles to anglers’ faces.

Dos Aguas - Bozeman, Montana

Surrounded by water, trees, and privacy, Dos Aguas is the kind of extraordinary property so many buyers look for, yet rarely find. This very special 286-acre ranch in Montana’s Gallatin Valley offers privacy, almost four miles of river and creek frontage, incredible fishing and hunting, diverse and abundant wildlife, spectacular views of nine encircling mountain ranges, a private air strip and hangar, and a lovely home—all within minutes of the thriving town of Bozeman. The Dos Aguas property was created by carefully assembling four parcels with the goal of enhancing privacy and habitat. Over 140 fifteen-foot-tall spruce trees have been planted, and the land has been restored for good hay and grain production, benefitting wildlife. Embraced by the East Gallatin River, Hyalite Creek, mature cottonwood trees, and a reclaimed railroad berm, this secluded spot has long been known as “the Island.” Dos Aguas was selected in 2009 for President Obama’s first fly fishing outing due to its privacy, quality fishing and convenient location. There is not another piece of property like it in the Gallatin Valley, nor will there ever be—as the dozens of bald eagles that have wintered here for decades will attest. Dos Aguas is available in its entirety or in three unique, smaller parcels: Two Waters (199.07 acres), Gallatin Reserve (60 acres) or Hyalite Reserve (26.75 acres).

C & B Reece Ranch - Tetonia, Idaho

Located in Teton Valley, Idaho, 15 minutes from the town of Driggs, the C & B Reece Ranch is comprised of 864 acres. Farmers covet the ranch’s location for the rich soil. The setting and topography include rolling farm land, ridges, aspen groves, riparian corridors and pristine views of the Teton Range and Yellowstone National Park. Bull Elk Creek flows year round through the property, providing water for stock and wildlife including Rocky Mountain elk, Mule deer and Shiras moose. The owner has farmed the property for 50 years and recently included 380 acres in a USDA program that promotes wildlife habitat for Sharptail grouse. The owner in return receives an annual income for participating in the program. This preservation increases the ranch’s excellent wildlife component including big game populations that use the ranch as a refuge. The remaining acreage is planted with a mix of Foxtail barley, Winter wheat as well as hay. This balanced operation provides excellent crop yields resulting in above-average farm income. For the hunter, onsite wingshooting opportunities are available for Sharptail grouse and Hungarian partridge. An incoming landowner will profit from the spectacular mountain views and sporting lifestyle of the C & B Reece Ranch.

Teton Farm Parcel - Driggs, Idaho

This Idaho ranch for sale consists of 122 acres of irrigated farmland located just 3 miles east of Driggs, Idaho. The parcel is relatively flat and perimeter-fenced with year-round access via county road on both the eastern and southern borders. Rich soils and water rights with an 1891 priority date from Teton Creek have made this a productive farm parcel. Average yields have been 4.5 tons per acre of hay and 60-80 bushels per acre on barley. The underlying zoning is Agricultural Small Increment and Rural Residential, which allows for residential development with a minimum lot size of 2.5 acres. Historically used as a parcel of a larger operation by an area farmer, this land was sold to a land developer in the mid-2000s and is now the property of a local lender after foreclosure proceedings. The lender has recognized the market retreat and has priced below recent appraisal for a quick sale.

Offering Price is $575,000, Reduced from $675,000

Hyalite Reserve - Bozeman, Montana

Located in the northeast part of Montana’s Gallatin Valley, the Hyalite Reserve is a truly distinctive piece of property with live water, wildlife, and spectacular mountain views. With its creek-side house site and over one-third mile of Hyalite Creek flowing through the property, you’ll feel like you’ve found your own special piece of Montana at last. And, at an affordable price. Hyalite Creek winds through the east end of this 26.75-acre parcel, drawing in wildlife and birds. A buck-and-rail fence was recently constructed on the west boundary, and the Reserve’s 20 acres of hay and grain fields were recultivated and reseeded with alfalfa and grass in the spring of 2010. With its sweet honey holes, Hyalite Creek offers seasonal fishing during the summer and fall as fish migrate up from the confluence with the Gallatin River, just downstream. For hunters, thick cover along the creek affords good hunting for pheasants and Hungarian partridge, and waterfowling for ducks and geese can also be superb. Take a good look at this offering—Hyalite Reserve could be the opportunity to acquire your own piece of creek-front heaven in the Gallatin Valley.

Flyway Ranch - Craig, Montana

Just 25 miles as the crow flies from the Rocky Mountain Front, Flyway Ranch lies equidistant between Great Falls and Helena, Montana, along the fabled Missouri River. The 160-acre ranch was purchased in 1993 and has been meticulously updated and improved to become not just a prime wildlife refuge, but a place where residents and their guests can enjoy privacy and seclusion while having access to two cities with endless outdoor and cultural opportunities. The ranch sits at 3200' in elevation, enjoying mild winters and easy access all months of the year. For the avid outdoorsmen, the Flyway Ranch boasts over a mile of prime fishing on the blue-ribbon, tail-water Missouri River, where there are thousands of fish per mile. The Flyway Ranch also has prime habitat for ducks, geese, Hungarian partridge, pheasants and deer. Most remarkably, the ranch boasts views of pristine mountains and ranchland. There are no houses visible from the ranch, which is highly unusual on such a popular trout river. The property is protected with a conservation easement and is an integral part of the conservation corridor that stretches approximately 10 miles along the Missouri River. Elk and antelope herds are often visible and occasionally bear come down from the mountains to eat chokecherries in August. The property boasts an apple orchard, a freshwater pond, an original farmhouse that was updated in 1995, a four bedroom, high-end guest lodge and several outbuildings.

Twin Waters Fishing Retreat - Henry, Idaho

Nestled in a landscape of rich river bottom, lush meadows and rolling hillsides, the Twin Waters Fishing Retreat encompasses 715 acres in southeast Idaho’s Caribou Highlands. Boasting 2.7 miles of Blackfoot River in addition to 1.5 miles of Trail Creek onsite, incoming landowners will enjoy rights to both sides of each river as they meander through the property. Lanes and Diamond Creeks join to form the Blackfoot River, a trophy cutthroat fishery that is home to one of the largest populations of the highly regarded native Yellowstone cutthroat trout. The Blackfoot River is a fertile waterway that resembles a western spring creek with riffles, deep pools and undercut banks. It provides an excellent habitat for thriving populations of resident cutthroats as well as spawning areas for large trout moving upstream from the nearby Blackfoot Reservoir. The owners recently completed a large-scale enhancement project on the ranch’s portion of the Blackfoot River, substantially increasing the numbers of native Yellowstone cutthroat trout and improving the abundant waterfowl habitat. In addition to the healthy fisheries and the wetland component, the ranch boasts strong numbers of elk and Mule deer. Due to the retreat’s lush pastureland and abundant water rights, this diverse property is open to a myriad of opportunities.
